EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 17, 1856.

THE PATH OF THE OCEAN TELEGRAPH.—A Washington letter states that Lieut. Berryman, who was sent out by the Navy Department, in the ship Arctic, to ascertain the depth, by soundings, from Newfoundland to Ireland, with reference to the practicability of a submarine telegraph, has submitted his report, together with the maps and charts, to the Navy Department, which will be published in the reports accompanying the Secretary's annual report. It is very brief and to the point. He starts out by making soundings every thirty or forty miles, varying from one hundred fathoms to two thousand and seventy-five fathoms; no place beyond the latter figure—that being the deepest point. In almost every sounding he brought up various kinds of curiosities, such as shells of every description, gravel, quantities of mud, &c., all of which have been deposited in the Smithsonian Institution.

On his return he made the same experiments of soundings with the same success. Nowhere did he find any obstructions or impediments in the way, and establishes clearly and conclusively and beyond the shadow of a doubt, in his judgment, the practicability and feasibility of the submarine telegraph between these two points. He says that the whole thing can be accomplished in ten days after everything is in readiness. During the month of July, in his judgment, is the time it should be done. He further says that the wires would sink down into soft muddy bottom, and that nothing could possibly interfere with them. This settles beyond all question the practicability of connecting the two continents by a submarine telegraph.

CONGRESS.—According to the best calculation that can be made, the Senate of the United States for 1857 will stand as follows: Buchanan 37, opposition 23, uncertain 2—total 62, with a Democratic majority of 14. The House of Representatives of the (new or) Thirty-fifth Congress will be about as follows: Buchanan 122, opposition 102; (probably) Democratic majority 28. The figures may vary a little from the above, but a fair working majority must be conceded to the Democrats. There have been already chosen to the 35th Congress 66 Democrats and 86 opposition, giving the latter 20 majority; elections are yet to be held in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia—all probably Democratic, in Kentucky and Maryland partly Democratic, while Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Connecticut will probably elect opposition members. From the above named States in the present Congress, there are 43 Democrats and 39 opposition; present majority for the former 4.

At a distribution of prizes in a German village, a little girl seven years old, whose parents had just been turned out of their lodgings, because they had failed to pay their rent, was asked by the rector—"Have you studied sacred history, my child?" "Yes, sir." "Do you know the history of creation?" "I know that God made all." "Why were Adam and Eve turned out of Paradise?" The child hesitated a moment, and then fixing her eye on the examiner, replied, "Probably they were turned out because they could not pay their rent!"

"SYMMES'S HOLE"—ITS ORIGIN.—Most of our readers have doubtless seen allusions to the theory of Captain Symmes, who maintained that the world is hollow, with an opening at the poles. The following copy of one of his circulars will explain his theory:

CIRCULAR.
Light gives Light to Light Discover—ad infinitum.

St. Louis, Mo. Territory, 2
North America, April 20, A. D., 1818 }
To all the World: I declare the earth is hollow and habitable within, containing a number of solid concentric spheres, one with the other; and that is open at the poles twelve or sixteen degrees. I pledge my life in support of this truth, and am ready to explore the hollow, if the world will support and aid me in the undertaking.

JOHN CLEVES SYMMES, of Ohio.
N. B. I have ready for the press a "Treatise on the Principles of Matter," wherein I show proofs of the above positions, account for various phenomena, and Dr. Darwin's golden secrets. My terms are, the patronage of this and the New World. I dedicate it to my wife and her ten children. I select Dr. O. H. Mitchell, Sir H. Davy, and Baron Alexander de Humboldt as my protectors. I ask one hundred brave companions, well equipped, to start for Siberia, in the fall season, with reindeer and sleighs, on the ice of the frozen sea. I engage we find warm and rich land, stocked with thrifty vegetables and animals, if not man, on reaching one degree northward of latitude 82. We will return in the succeeding spring.

To his Excellency Gov. Wm. Clark.
The above is copied into a number of Niles's Register, for 1818, from an Ohio journal, which vouches for Symmes as a man of intelligence and respectability.

THE MOON.—Dr. Scoresby, in an account that he has given of some recent observations made with the Earl of Rosse's telescope, says:

With respect to the moon, every object on its surface of one hundred feet was now distinctly to be seen, and he had no doubt that, under favorable circumstances, it would be so with objects sixty feet in height. On its surface were craters of extinct volcanoes, rocks, and masses of stones almost innumerable. He had no doubt that if such a building as he was then in were upon the surface of the moon, it would be rendered visible by these instruments. But there was no sign of inhabitants such as ours, no vestige of architectural remains to show that the moon is or ever was inhabited by a race of mortals similar to ourselves. It presented no appearance which could lead to the supposition that it contained anything like the green fields and lovely verdure of this beautiful world of ours. There was no water visible, not a sea, or river, or even the measure of the reservoir for supplying town or factory; all seemed desolate.

SAILING OF THE BRITISH BARK RESOLUTE.—Her Appearance.—List of Officers.—The British Discovery Bark Resolute sailed yesterday at noon, from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, under the command of Capt. H. J. Hartstein, one of the officers of the late Arctic Expedition, for Portsmouth, England, where she will be delivered into the hands of Her Majesty's Government as a present from the Government of the United States.

The singular history of the Resolute must be fresh in the recollection of our readers. It will be remembered that she was dispatched by the British Government in search of Sir John Franklin and was frozen in among the icebergs; that her officers and crew had to abandon her, leaving all their effects on board; that she was found several months ago by the crew of a whaling vessel belonging to New London, Ct., having drifted about 1,200 miles from the spot where she was abandoned. Nor will it be forgotten that the sum of $40,000 was appropriated by our own Government for purchasing her from the fortunate whalers of New London—the English Government having waived all claim to her.

She has been repaired and fitted with the utmost care at the expense of our Government, with the design of restoring her to the Queen in at least as good a condition as she was in at the time the exigencies of their situation compelled her crew to abandon her. With such completeness and attention to detail has this work been performed, that not only has everything found on board been preserved, even to the books in the captain's library, the pictures in his cabin, and a musical box and organ belonging to other officers, but new British flags have been manufactured in the navy-yard to take the place of those which had rotted during the long time she was without a living soul on board. From stem to stern she has been repainted; her sails and much of her rigging are entirely new, the masts, yards, telescopes, nautical instruments, &c., which she contained, have been cleaned and put in perfect order. Nothing has been overlooked or neglected that was necessary to her most complete and thorough renovation. Several thousand pounds of powder which were found on board will be taken back to England, somewhat deteriorated in quality, but still good enough for ordinary purposes, such as firing salutes.

Her massive build surprised every one of her numerous visitors while she remained at the Navy Yard. Her upper deck and between-decks are double planked throughout, while her bows and sides are of three thicknesses. Her builders had regard to the comfort of her officers and crew in the Arctic Seas. Under every berth runs a steam-pipe, and through the entire length of the cabins and between-decks are rows of pipes, three feet in diameter, which must have effectively heated the vessel, even when the thermometer fell to 60 or 70 deg. below zero. The pipes in question connected with a huge furnace, which also served as a cooking range.

The officers appointed by the Government to conduct the Resolute to England are—Commander H. J. Hartstein, Lieut. C. H. Wells, E. E. Stone, and Hunter Davidson. The surgeon is Mr. R. T. Macecum, and the secretary, Mr. Otis.

The Resolute is undoubtedly a slow sailer, and it is not expected that she will reach Portsmouth under forty days. The reception which will be given to her officers and crew will, undoubtedly, be worthy of the generous conduct of the American people.

MORE ABOUT THE LOST STEAMER LYONNAIS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.
The Lyonnais had the following passengers: Mrs. Damer M. Solomon, Mrs. Strong, Mr. Bailey and lady, Philip Dugleume, J. F. Bassford, lady, children, and servant, Don Dias Comos, Jose D. Ulate, lady, and servant, Herman Huber and servant, Albert Sumner, lady, daughter, and servant, T. G. Gibson, Mr. Sheddell and lady, Mr. Van Ruis, C. Baugrand, E. De Montigny, Mr. Trabouca, Mr. Ocellio, Lawrence Martin and child, E. Ravoit, Rev. John B. Coccoque, Saul Lospartos, A. Louette de Lestrage, A. Frollein, Mademoiselle Ernestine Bellet—39 cabin passengers, and there were on board, including officers, crew, &c., near 150 souls.

On the night of Sunday the 2d inst., while in a dense fog, the Nantucket Light ship, bearing N. N. N., and distant 60 miles, the ship was run into by an unknown vessel and her stern cut clean off. Nothing more was seen of the unknown vessel, and it is probable that she went down immediately.

The Lyonnais remained with her afterpart full of water and her bow high out of water. All hands stood by the wreck until the next day, when it was abandoned. The ship was provided with six boats, only one of which was a life-boat; that boat has been heard from.

On the following Monday morning, after it was resolved to abandon the wreck, a raft was constructed, and about 40 persons took refuge upon it.

It is the opinion of the second officers that this raft could not have lived through the rough weather that succeeded, and must have been broken to pieces and all lost.

In another boat was the commander with some of the passengers. It was the intention of the captain to pull for Montauk Point.

DREADFUL FRAUD IN WISCONSIN.—There is nothing like a startling novelty to attract attention—and one of the most startling on record has just been "set up" by the Banner and Volksfreund or "Banner and Friend of the People," a Democratic paper, published in Wisconsin. According to the Banner, the elections in Racine as well as in Walworth county, Wisconsin, were actually carried—illegally—of course, by strong minded ladies, disguised as men who, inspired by a great love for Fremont, carried out their principles by treacherously passing themselves off for specimens of the sterner sex and voting. If this be true—and we never heard that the Banner was in the habit of lying—the ladies of Wisconsin must emphatically be Jesuitesses of the strongest possible description. Furthermore we incline to the opinion that the Democracy of Racine and Walworth counties must be a brave party indeed and gifted with either excessive gallantry or great blindness, to suffer themselves to be beaten by the fair sex. We have seen some illegal voting in our own city, but nothing quite equal to an election determined by ladies. Fancy the conversation between two of these volantes to Republicanism, on their return. "Well, Annie, dear—did you vote?" "Oh yes—no trouble at all, love—they only made me swear to the truth. What a duck of a man that was who gave us our tickets!" "How many girls did you get to vote?" No wonder that Democracy is at a discount in Wisconsin!

IMPORTANT SUBMARINE EXPERIMENTS.—Trial of the "Nautilus."—Major Henry B. Sears has invented a machine which he calls the Nautilus, which entirely supersedes the necessity for the use of the old cumbersome and inefficient appliances in submarine operations; and yesterday, in response to invitations from the American Nautilus and S. S. Machine Company, a large number of our merchants and scientific gentlemen took an excursion on the steamer Champion to Glen Cove, to witness the operations of one of the Nautilus Machines.

A company of officers deputed by the U. S. Navy Department at Washington descended in the Nautilus. While under water they hinged on a block of stone weighing 5 tons and containing 56 cubic feet, returning with it to the surface in 4 min. 30 seconds. After moving through the water about 30 feet, they descended again, deposited the stone, and returned to the surface, having been in the bell 9 min 37 seconds. After this trip, ladies and gentlemen descended a dozen together and expressed themselves highly gratified with their experience.

The apparatus is a combination of a reservoir charged with condensed air by a steam air-pump, stationed at the surface, and connected by flexible hose with the Nautilus, which is in the water. The apparatus may be in various forms; the present is an inverted truncated cone, with a spherical top. It is about ten feet in diameter at the largest part, and eight feet in height. It is made entirely of boiler iron of great thickness. It is independent of suspension, and floats at the will of the operator. There are chambers on both sides of the machine, into which water is admitted when it is desired to sink the machine. By opening a valve in the top, connected with the hose from the reservoir, air is admitted of sufficient density to counterbalance the density of the water outside. The requisite density is determined by proper gauges placed in the side of the operating chamber. The cover of the bottom is removed after these preliminaries, and communication is obtained with the bottom.

In order to move where no current exists, the operator steps on the bottom and carries the machine with him. In current or tide, cables passing from four windlasses inside, through the plane of the centre of gravity, to anchors previously placed, admits of movement in any direction. In order to lift weights, a bar with swivel-hook is passed across the bottom. Affixing this hook to a stone or other weight, the water-valves are opened, and condensed air from the reservoir is admitted into the chambers. This expulsion of water exercises a lifting power exactly equal to the weight of the water expelled. As soon as the object is lifted from the bottom, movement in any direction may be made to deposit the weight; water is again admitted. The connection with the air reservoir being always closed, except when air is being admitted, the air previously admitted is allowed to escape by a valve arranged for the purpose. The water being again admitted, as stated, causes the apparatus to sink and the weight to be deposited. The perfect command which the operator has over the movements of the Nautilus permits this deposit to be made with the greatest nicety. This simple description embraces the whole apparatus.

As steam cannot be carried under water, air of the same density, it is found, may be used as a motive power below the surface, and applied to the working of rock drills, sawing of piles, &c., by a small engine inside the operating chamber, to which the condensed air is carried by hose in the same manner in which steam is carried from the steam boiler to the cylinder. By an arrangement of a chamber upon the side of the Nautilus, holes may be bored in the timbers of a sunken ship, in which eye bolts may be subsequently placed—to which camels or pontoons may be attached, which, being subsequently filled with powerfully condensed air from the reservoir, will raise the vessel. The lifting force is incredible.

The Nautilus is also available in laying masonry under water. The power as developed yesterday, as compared with previous methods, excited astonishment from those most familiar with the business. The Nautilus, floating at the surface, descended in twenty-two feet water, the cover was removed from the bottom, a stone of fifty-six cubic feet weighing about five tons was affixed to the cross-bar, and brought to the surface in four or five minutes; the Nautilus, with the stone still suspended, was then moved between twenty and thirty feet, again descended, deposited the stone, and returned to the surface—the whole time occupied in descending, lifting, moving, depositing, and returning to the surface being but 94 minutes. The amount of masonry laid by the ordinary diving bell averages four hundred and fifty cubic feet per day. There may be laid with the Nautilus, if the exhibit of yesterday be the criterion by which to judge, thirty-five hundred cubic feet a day, at a cost of $35, which is considerably less than the ordinary cost of masonry laid out of water.

By the aid of the Nautilus the topography of the bottom of bays and rivers can be ascertained with ease, the heaviest masonry for sea walls and fortifications laid without difficulty, and sunken vessels, of large tonnage, may speedily be brought to the surface.

But the uses to which the Nautilus may be applied may not be enumerated in a paragraph. Its adaptability to the pearl fishery is affirmed by adepts. The introduction of the Nautilus into England will give our cousins a new sensation akin to that produced by the yacht America and the frigate Merrimac. It is, as expressed by ex-Lieutenant Governor Patterson (now of the Harbor Commissioners), an invention to take money out of John Bull's pocket; for nowhere will it be more quickly appreciated, no more highly valued, or more extensively used, than in Great Britain.

The Nautilus itself costs about four thousand dollars, but for the engines and other appliances all complete, six or seven thousand dollars will be required.

UNITED STATES COINAGE FOR THE FISCAL YEAR.—The deposits at the Mint of the United States Branches and Assay office, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1856, were, of gold $60,085,966 90 (of which $59,608,609 50 was from California), and of silver $6,337,523 37 (of which $2,944,472 55 was parted from the California gold), making a total of $66,423,490 27 in precious metals.

The gold coinings consisted of 1,582,146 double eagles, 107,490 eagles, 365,670 half eagles, 57,100 three dollar pieces, 377,334 quarter eagles, 792,110 gold dollars, 5,659 fine bar (of the value of $21,956,397 16), 1,065 unparted bars (of the value of $3,746,136 52), the number of pieces 3,288,585, value $62,166,413 63.

The silver coinage consisted of 63,500 dollars, 6,016 500 half dollars, 6,872,400 quarter dollars, 2,880,000 dimes, 4,500,000 half dimes, 722,000 three cent pieces, and 162 fine bars—(value $30,551 04); the number of pieces 21,654,562—value $5,355,061 04. The copper coinage was 1,745,584 pieces, in cents, of the value of $17,455 84. The whole number of pieces coined during the fiscal year was 26,088,731, of the value of $67,527,930 86.

THE AMERICAN FLAG.—It is indeed strange that the people of these United States understand so little of the proper form, proportion of size, number of stripes even of their own national flag, the glorious "Star-Spangled Banner." The standard of the army is fixed at six feet six inches by four feet four inches; the number of stripes is thirteen, viz: seven red and six white. It will be perceived that the flag is just one-half longer than it is broad, and that its proportions are perfect when properly carried out. The first stripe at the top is red, the next white, and so down alternately, which makes the last red. The blue "field" for the stars is the width and square of the first seven stripes, viz: four red and three white. These stripes extend from the side of the "field" to the extremity of the flag. The next stripe is white, extending the entire length of it, and directly under the field in strong and pleasing relief; then follow the remaining stripes alternately. The number of stars on the field is now thirty-one, and the army and navy immediately add another star on the admission of a new State in our glorious Union.

No! I HAVE NOT BEGUN TO FIGHT!—Such was the language of Paul Jones when the British commander asked if he had surrendered. Although his decks were slippery with blood, his ship on fire, his guns dismounted, and his colors shot away, Paul Jones, with an immortal heroism, kept up the battle! "Do you surrender?" shouts the English captain, when he saw that the colors of the "Bon Homme Richard" were gone from the masthead. There was a lull in the conflict for an instant—

"And the boldest held his breath," as Paul Jones, covered with blood and powder stains, waved his sword and gave his memorable answer: "No! I have not begun to fight!" And the result was, that the battle changed, and in a few moments the British frigate struck her colors and surrendered, and Paul Jones, leaping from his own sinking vessel, stood victorious upon the royal deck! THE GREAT RUSSIAN REMEDY.—Pro Bona Publico.—"Every mother should have a box in the house handy in case of accidents to the children."

REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE.—It is a Boston remedy of thirty years' standing, and is recommended by physicians. It is a sure and speedy cure for Buns, Piles, Boils, Corns, Felons, Chilblains, and Old Sores of every kind; for Fever Sores, Ulcers, Itch, Scald Head, Nettle Rash, Bunions, Sore Nipples (recommended by nurses), Whitlows, Sties, Fester, Flea Bites, Spitter Stings, Frozen Limbs, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Sore and Cracked Lips, Sore Nose, Warts, and Flesh Wounds it is a most valuable remedy and cure, which can be testified to by thousands who have used it in the city of Boston and vicinity for the last thirty years. In no instance will this Salve do an injury, or interfere with a physician's prescriptions. It is made from the purest materials, from a recipe brought from Russia—of articles growing in that country—and the proprietors have letters from all classes, clergymen, physicians, sea captains, nurses, and others who have used it themselves, and recommend it to others.

Redding's Russia Salve is put in large tin boxes, stamped on the cover with a picture of a horse and a disabled soldier, which picture is also engraved on the wrapper.

GREAT BARGAINS—REDUCED PRICES.—Miller & Tabb, corner Fourth and Market streets, are offering a large stock of handsome velvet, cloth, moir antique, and plush Cloaks at greatly reduced prices—lower by 25 per cent. than the same goods can be found in any other warehouse house. They are also offering a large stock of fancy Silks, printed Merinos, De Laines, Cashmeres, Shawls, Flannels, Linens, Jeans, plaid Linseys, Satinets, linen Table-cloths, Napkins, Hosiery, &c., &c., at unusually low prices. We would advise our friends, especially the ladies, to call at this house before they make their purchases, feeling satisfied they will be repaid for their trouble. n15 j&b

A BIG MAJORITY.—A unanimous vote in these days of high political excitement, when the whole country is divided and subdivided into political and religious organizations, is a result scarcely expected by many persons. But that such an event has really occurred is clearly proven. And it is an undeniable fact that on one subject the vote is unanimous, and that all parties, old and young, native and foreign, bond and free, who have tried Porter's Oriental Life Liniment, pronounce it to be a valuable remedy for the relief and cure of rheumatism, pains in the back and shoulders—it has been used with the greatest success by thousands—and for the permanent cure of old sores, frets, ringworm, bruises, cuts, sprains, and frost-bites it is infallible. o31 j&b dco&w

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.—Bent & Duval's Goods at Cost.—Messrs. Bent & Duval have determined to sell out their large stock of goods at cost. It embraces one of the finest assortments of embroideries, silks, carpets, linens, furnishing goods, &c., ever brought to this city. The proprietors are gentlemen of standing and integrity, and they will most assuredly carry out what they promise. The cost of every article is labelled on it in figures, so that the purchaser may see it for himself.

Messrs. B. & D. have been induced to this arrangement in consequence of a contemplated change in the firm on the 1st of January. We are gratified in being able to say, however, that the house will not only be continued, but that it will be materially enlarged thereafter.

Mrs. J. L. Deming, whose powers of song have been very highly spoken of by the press wherever she has appeared, will give a concert in Louisville to-morrow evening. Mrs. Deming is a poetess of great merit as well as an accomplished singer.

From the high praise awarded to Mrs. Deming wherever she has sung, we anticipate a rich musical treat at her concert here. Among others of our exchanges which compliment her very highly, the Rochester Advertiser says:

Her appearance is an event in musical annals. From the first notes she sang, as from the first words of Goldsmith's Traveller, we felt in the hallowed presence of genius. Her voice, the gift of nature, has sweetness, extent, and power, and would alone have given her celebrity; but, with Mrs. Deming it is the least of her qualifications, for she has all the greater ones, which go to make a great artist—such an artist as there are but few in one generation. She sings from her soul, and moulds the souls of her hearers to her will; she controls her voice with consummate art, and has the most exquisite and refined taste.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the Bulletin.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.

The steamer Texas, from San Juan, via Key West, has arrived. She connected with the Sierra Nevada, which left San Francisco on the 20th.

The Sierra Nevada passed the Orizaba on the 25th and Sonora on the 24th, both bound for San Francisco.

The Texas brings 400 passengers and $127,000 in specie.

Among her passengers are Don Ferdinand Ferrer, the new Nicaraguan Minister to Washington, Mr. Wheeler, American Minister to Nicaragua, and Col. Fabens, a bearer of dispatches from Gen. Walker.

The dates from Grenada brought by the Texas are to the first instant.

Matters in Nicaragua had been quiet since the battle of Masaya. General Walker was awaiting the arrival of the expected recruits before marching again upon Masaya and Leon.

Gen. Hensinger, who superseded Goicuria, was drilling the army in the use of mountain howitzers and Minnie rifles. The whole army now numbers 2,000 men, and they were all in good spirits and eager for an engagement with the enemy. It was thought a decisive battle would be fought at Masaya about the 10th of November.

Advices from the mines are favorable. A new silver vein has been opened and extensive copper mines have been found in the vicinity of Bocos.

A topographical and geological survey of the State is to be commenced shortly under Prof. Jas. T. Hodge.

RISEING SUN, Ind., Nov. 17.

The steamer White Bluff, with a full cargo for Nashville, struck a snag, above this place, yesterday morning, and sank on the bar opposite town.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.

A meeting of the Republican Association of this city was held last evening. Resolutions were unanimously passed for the continuance of their organization upon the principles of their old platform and those of the Philadelphia Convention.

A committee was appointed to draft an address and resolutions of a congratulatory character to the friends of Fremont and freedom and urging upon them the importance of keeping up their local organizations.

Remarks were made laudatory of Col. Fremont and expressive of gratification at the result of the election in the free States, but the association deemed it injudicious at this time to make any presidential nomination for 1860.

It appeared by the Secretary's report that the Washington Republican Association had published and circulated about four million documents during the campaign, comprising 80 different kinds. Among them were 100,000 copies of Blair's letter, about 300,000 copies of Mr. Seward's speech, 210,000 copies of Mr. Sumner's crime against Kansas, 143,000 copies of Senator Wilson's speech, and 146,000 copies of Mr. Colfax's speech, together with 165,000 copies of the Kansas Investigating Committee's report.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.

The steamship Fulton sailed at noon for Havre. She takes out nearly half a million in specie.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.

We have advices from Buenos Ayres to the 27th September. A heavy gale occurred on the 6th September, lasting until the 26th, during which the bark Miguelon was stranded.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.

Illinois Legislature—Senate, Democrats 13; Republicans 12. House, Democrats 37; opposition 38, consisting of Republicans 33, Fillmore 5. Presiding officer of the Senate, Lieut. Gov. Wood, Republican.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.

Hon. Henry A. Wise arrived here last evening and started at 8 this morning for Lancaster. It is presumed that he designs visiting Mr. Buchanan.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.

The bark Adriatic, which came in collision with the steamer Lyonnais, arrived at Gloucester on the 4th of November. The captain went immediately to Belfast where he reported to the Belfast Journal that he had been run into by an unknown steamer which passed on without stopping to render assistance.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DON'T ALL SPEAK AT ONCE.—Mr. Stephen M. Branch, one of the local celebrities of New York, who gained extensive notoriety by his tour in search of the birth-place of the Chief of Police, proposes to write his own life. Not, however, being exceedingly flush pecuniarily, but quite the contrary, he thus appeals to the noble citizens of Gotham:

I am about to write "The Cheerful Sunlight of my Life," leaving its dismal shade to the just historian.

After I am old and mum,
In the dear Mausoleum.

As the Board of Councilmen of New York have robbed me of nearly $5,000, my pockets are rather vacant. Therefore, if some noble citizen will loan me the means to sustain me while I write and publish my life, I will most assuredly cancel his claim when I sell my books, and be forever grateful to him for his kindness and generosity. My auto-biography will begin with the very instant of my birth (as imparted to me by my old aunt Lucy, who was on the spot), and close with the last moment of my existence, including the history of all my travels and pronouncements, with many dissertations never promulgated. If the capitalist to whom I now appeal, desires a share of my enterprise, for a consideration he shall be gratified. Please address me through the Kansas street Post Office, without delay, as I desire to publish my life for Christmas and New Year's.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held yesterday morning, at the Sulphur Well, on the body of Gideon McDowell, a blacksmith, who lived on the Preston street plank road, about five miles from the city. The deceased and Wm. Powell, a young man of the same neighborhood, met at Sulphur Well late Saturday evening, and an altercation ensued, growing out of offensive language previously used by Powell. The deceased received a wound near the left eye, from a blow of the fist, which caused his death in a few minutes. Verdict: "Came to his death from the effects of a wound inflicted with a knife or other sharp-pointed instrument which engaged in a difficulty with William Powell."

W. LEE WHITE, Coroner.

We learn from the coroner that McDowell leaves a wife and five children in a very dependent condition. Powell is still at large, but will probably give himself up to the authorities to-day.

We have the details of the foreign news from Europe, but we do not find anything of great interest in them. The New York Times says of the intelligence:

The Neapolitan question has diminished in importance, paled before the splendors of a new quarrel in which Austria, England, and Turkey are the parties. There are very contradictory reports in relation to this matter. It seems to be conceded, however, that a demand has been made by the Porte upon Austria for the evacuation of the Danubian Principalities, and upon Great Britain for the evacuation of the Black Sea, but that by a mutual understanding both powers refuse to leave. Under these circumstances, the question of the Principalities assumes an importance above all others. Relations between England and France are not so harmonious but that the presses of the two countries find occasion to animadvert with sharpness upon the affairs of the alliance, and there are dark hints of a leaning toward a secret understanding between England and Austria. The fact that Austria and England both refuse to accede to the demand of the Sultan indicates that there is some coloring of truth in this last rumor. Sir Charles Napier has written a reply to Sir Robert Peel's after-dinner speech, defending himself from Sir Robert's assaults. The liabilities of Fox, Henderson, & Co., the Crystal Palace contractors, whose failure was announced by the last arrival, are stated at £350,000.

ARRIVAL OF THE GEORGE LAW.

From Central America.—The Panama Star and Herald of the 1st inst. furnishes the following narrative of a suspension of relations between Great Britain and New Granada:

By a sailing vessel which arrived at Aspinwall on Thursday from Carthage, we have received the important information that Mr. Charles H. B. M. Charge d'Affaires at Bogota, having failed to arrange with the New Granada Government the old standing Mackintosh's claim, has broken off negotiations with the government, and given notice that the Admiral of the British West India Squadron has been ordered to enforce the payment of the claim. The Gazette Official of October 11th, thus introduces the correspondence:

"Unfortunately a disagreement has arisen with the Government of H. B. Majesty, originating from the non-legislative approbation of the convention arranged on the 24th of November, 1855, to compensate Mr. James Mackintosh, a British subject, for the damage suffered by him in consequence of not redeeming in the custom house during a certain period, and in virtue of certain executive dispositions of some portion of the values of the floating debt of 6 per 100 which he received in payment of his claim of Colombian origin."

"The Republic is threatened with coercive measures on the part of the British Naval forces, without the Executive Power using its constitutional power having been able to prevent it. By its order, and for the information of the nation, it publishes the documents relative to the recent diplomatic controversy on this disagreeable affair. It is to be hoped from the sentiments of justice of the British Government that hereafter it will be regulated in a satisfactory manner."

From Costa Rica the intelligence is to the 4th of October. The Star and Herald says: General Canas was still on the frontier, watching the Walker party, and a large additional force is to be sent to join him immediately. Private advices state that 1,000 men had already marched, and 500 to 1,800 more were soon to follow. A public meeting was held on the 5th of October at San Jose, in which it was unanimously agreed to carry on the war with vigor. The Bishop of San Jose made an offer to government of all his private property, and many influential citizens contributed largely to the expenses of the war.

From Nicaragua the news is no later, than that previously received direct. We have, however, accounts of the encounters at Masaya and Granada, which differ materially from those received through the columns of El Nicaraguense, and from the officers of Walker's army. A letter from Greytown, under date of October 13, says:

On the 11th, Walker marched his forces to Masaya, and when within two miles of there the allied forces came out to meet him, and after some skirmishing retreated to that town, where Walker received a very warm reception, so much so, as to think Granada more hospitable quarters.

On his return, which was most unexpected, he found the city in possession of a party of Chamorroists from Chantales, numbering some three hundred, who had completely sacked the city, even Walker's private papers coming into their hands, and Granada was theirs were it not that in their eagerness for plunder they neglected the necessary precaution for defence. They stripped Walker of all his clothing and provisions, as well as those belonging to his army.

Walker's position is now a critical one, and on his next battle depends his fate. He receives numerous augmentations and plentiful supplies by every opportunity; nevertheless the desertions from his army are numerous. In the last battle he was 800 strong; the 300 men who occupied Granada made bad use of their time, and thought more of plunder than of duty; had they burnt the town Walker was completely ruined. The few Americans who were in Granada behaved well, defending the ordnance, guard-house, and hospital.

The next battle which must be fought at Masaya will probably decide the fate of Central America, and were it not for the jealousy of the native forces there is no doubt on what side the victory would be. In fact they have too many generals who quarrel and intrigue among themselves, and neutralize the good they might otherwise be able to effect.

This letter says that the Rev. Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Lawless, who were shot by the invading force, were taken with arms in their hands.

From California.—We have files of San Francisco papers to the 20th of October, fourteen days later than previous advices.

We copy the following items from the summary of intelligence prepared for transmission by the steamer in the office of the San Francisco Bulletin:

On the 7th October, the California American of Sacramento published a letter from Millard Fillmore, dated Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30, stating that he still held the sentiments in favor of internal improvements, and particularly the Pacific Railroad, which were set forth in his annual message of 1850.

On the 17th, a letter by James Buchanan, dated Wheatland, near Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 19, addressed to B. F. Washington, chairman of the Democratic State central committee, was published in the Sacramento State Journal, in which he states that he is in favor of the Pacific Railroad and considers its construction Constitutional and proper on the ground of its being necessary for the defense of the country, just as much as the fortifications of the harbor and the appropriations for their erection.

Since our last steamer edition several fires have taken place. One occurred in Minnesota, Sierra county, which nearly destroyed the town. Fourteen buildings were also destroyed at Gold Hill, about thirteen miles from Nevada. Several buildings near Grass Valley, on the Nevada road, were also burned the next day.

On the 7th October, a destructive fire occurred at Placerville, by which property to the amount of over $50,000 was consumed. The city is being rebuilt in very substantial style. Brick buildings already occupy a large portion of the district formerly burnt over.

During the past fortnight rain has fallen in different parts of the State, and snow now caps the Mountains of the Sierra Nevada. On the 8th October, snow to the depth of eight inches fell at Bear Valley, Nevada county. On the Feather river many miners were driven from their claims, and several wing dams and flumes were carried away. Copious showers have also fallen in the southern portion of the State. Ice an inch in thickness was found near Placerville, at Grizzly Flat. Our miners, farmers, and stock-raisers are well pleased. A table published, showing the number of rainy days in each of the past seven winters, gives an average of about 61 days per year.

O, the 25th ult., at about half-past 11 P. M., severe shocks of earthquake were experienced in San Diego county. The Indians and cattle were much frightened, and sleepers generally disturbed, but no great damage was done. Troubles with the Indians have occurred near Humboldt Bay.

It is expected that there will soon be a plentiful supply of gold from the mines, though this is dependent chiefly upon the weather, plenty of rain enabling the miners to wash out the dirt collected during the summer. The Branch Mint, which had been closed on account of the want of the necessary acids, has been furnished by the arrival of a long expected cargo, and is again in full operation.

[From this morning Journal.]

JACKSON, MICH., Nov. 15.
A large fire occurred here last night, which destroyed the Empire House, Bean & Clark's produce and grocery store, and other property. The total loss is about $40,000. The insurance is small.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.
The steamer Marion is to be dispatched immediately in search of the steamer Lynnaeus.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.
A very destructive fire broke out this afternoon at Three Rivers. One-half of the town is already in ruins.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 15, P. M.
The river—28 inches by the metal mark.

Another Territory, we learn, is about to be organized by a portion of its inhabitants. On the first of September, an election was held at various points in the Gadsden Purchase for delegates to the Territorial Legislature of New Mexico, and for a delegate to Congress. The latter, it is expected, will present to Congress a petition for the separation of the Gadsden Purchase from the northern part of New Mexico, and the erection of an independent Territorial Government. To this post Mr. R. P. Cook was chosen. How much of New Mexico they desire to have included within the new Territory, we are not informed; but the advocates of the separation say that the country is naturally divided, by the intervention of deserts and mountains, into two States of governmental jurisdictions. The Gadsden Purchase, or Arizona, as the residents sometimes style it, contains a total population of perhaps a thousand persons, of whom one-half are Indians, and a third Mexicans of a very low class, the rest are Americans and Germans. The principal village is Tuscon (Tucson) which aspires to be the capital of the new State. There is a fort in the vicinity of the place, with a small garrison of United States troops.—N. Y. Tribune.

Distressing Occurrence.—A Whole Family Destroyed.—A private letter from Morgan county, Ill., informs us that a most distressing casualty, or, rather, scenes of casualties, occurred about three miles from Jacksonville, a few days ago, to which nearly a whole family fell victims. A small girl, daughter of a widow named Ironmonger, while feeding the pigs, having got into the pen where they were confined for the purpose, was attacked by a vicious sow and torn so shockingly that she died. A large hole was eaten in her side by the savage beast, and she was otherwise mangled. The shock on the mother at the horrid spectacle, killed her, too. The next night a campfire lamp exploded accidentally, in the house, killing one child instantly and so severely injuring another that it is not expected to survive.—St. Louis News, Nov. 14.

MECHANIC'S TOOLS.—All the latest improvements, with a superior assortment of Builders' Machinery for sale by A. McBRIDE, 49 Third st.

Terrible Casualty.—On Saturday night last, as some of our young men were firing the cannon over the Democratic victory just achieved, a premature explosion occurred by which five or six persons were injured, three of them severely. Anselmo Lynes had his hands and face badly burnt. He will lose one of his eyes and probably both. Jack Jenkins was similarly burnt and will doubtless lose an eye. John Mills was also burnt in the face very badly. One or two others were injured but not seriously.—Clarksville Jeffersonian.

An Affray.—We learn that a difficulty occurred at a school-house in Simpson county, about three miles from Franklin, on Tuesday last, between two boys; one about 20 years of age, whose name is Hogan, and the other about 16 years of age, whose name is White. White and Hogan made a bet on the election, White being a Democrat and Hogan a Know-Nothing. A dispute arose between them, and White cut Hogan in the head with an ax, from the effects of which he died about 8 o'clock that night. White is under arrest.—Bowling Green Gazette.
